

PROTOTYPES

Spectra

strawberry time/ $10
about cholesterol/ $4
sweaters for spring/ $22
Living/Food/Family/Science/Medical

Living/Food/Family/Science/Medical

DESERET NEWS

let's face
it

Judith Rasband

you to make a strong statement of personal style. It may take a little courage to go beyond the ordinary, but if you would like to, you can do it! Just ask yourself — very specifically — "Now, what would be different? What would be just a little bit out of the ordinary?" You don't have to go to extremes, appear falsely sophisticated, faddish or worldly in any way. You can be creative and still be true to yourself without sacrificing your own values. You can do it!

When you're in a store, look for interesting lines and shapes, unusual textures, and creative color combinations. Look for accessories to add an unexpected note of color or texture and "pull together" the colors or textures in your outfit. Creative color combinations may take you beyond the ordinary. At the same program another

Linen and cotton sweater is done in striking color blocks and features inside-out seams, above. By Cooper, it's worn by Kellie Thompson. Right, Julie Simper shows off a dramatic animal print by I.B. Diffusion.

PHOTOGRAPHY/ GERALD SILVER

Sweaters for all seasons